Patricia and Shannon,

At our last meeting, Margaret Watkins made mention of a number of mines being out of compliance with their permits and some operating under expired permits. Of course I am interested in those violating sulfate discharge permits but am also interested to see what other types of violations the MPCA is allowing at this time. This would give us some context advising next steps for our advisory committee.

I look forward to receiving the information and a summary of what types of violations/expirations are occurring.

Thank you for your time and diligence to this critical effort.

Good morning,

I am attaching a meeting summary from our November 13, 2013 Wild Rice Advisory Committee Meeting in St. Paul. Also attached are the handouts from the meeting, an updated schedule of wild rice-related activities going forward, updated map and Excel file with 2013 field site locations and a copy of the sulfide germination test method. Please let me know if I missed anyone who attended either in person or on the phone so I can forward this to them.

I will be getting in touch with all of you about a conference call to discuss the criteria development for “water used for production of wild rice” once the discussion with Tribes is completed. We are also looking for feedback from advisory committee members on the timing of the next meeting.

Best wishes to all of you for an enjoyable Thanksgiving holiday with family and friends. Thank you all for your participation on the advisory committee; we are grateful for your help and perseverance as we move through this process.
